

Vendor Offerings in Response to COVID-19

A number of vendors have been offering additional resources to libraries in the face of COVID-19. (Please note: Not all of these resources may apply to your library--this message is for informational purposes only. Consult your library's ERM practitioner.)

- EBSCO
  - Free Resources & Expanded Access
  - COVID-19 Free Resources – How to Enable in EBSCO Discovery Service and Full Text Finder
- Elsevier
  - Novel Coronavirus Information Center
- Emerald
  - Free content related to Coronavirus and the management of epidemics
- IEEE
  - COVID-19 Related Research Now Free to Access in IEEE Xplore
- JSTOR
  - Expanded free access for participating institutions through June 30, 2021. (You have to log into your JSTOR library admin account to request expanded access).
    - Access to unlicensed collections for participating academic institutions that currently license some, but not all, JSTOR Archive and Primary Source collections.
    - Access to Artstor's core collections of 2.5+ million images and research tools for participating higher education institutions that currently license JSTOR but not Artstor.
- OCLC
  - COVID-19 and OCLC Services
- Project Muse
  - Free temporary access is ended, but there is other Open Access content.
- Taylor & Francis
  - COVID-19 resources and support for you
  - COVID-19: Novel Coronavirus Content Free to Access

For many more vendors and resources, consult these lists:

- Digital Video Collections Guide
  - A curated source of freely available high quality online film & video collections. Developed by the late deg farrelly (Arizona State University) and Scott Spicer - mirrored on ALA. *Disclaimer: Please be aware that we cannot guarantee availability of the content these sites provide, nor assume responsibility for the functionality of these sites. Copyright use understanding is the responsibility of the patron.
- ICOLC COVID-19 Complimentary Expanded Access Specifics (EAS) spreadsheet
  - This is a crowd-sourced spreadsheet from the International Coalition of Library Consortia (ICOLC). See the ICOLC statement to learn more.
- Institute of Museum & Library Services
  - A vast collection of worldwide resources for library-centric COVID-19 topics, from archiving to serving patrons to emergency funding
- Streaming Resources MCM Remote Teaching and Learning
  - A comprehensive guide of freely available media resources developed by Regina Longo (Modern Culture and Media, Brown University). *Disclaimer: Please be aware that we cannot guarantee availability of the content these sites provide, nor assume responsibility for the functionality of these sites. Copyright use understanding is the responsibility of the patron.
- Vendor Love in the Time of COVID-19
  - (aka Vendor COVID-19 Related Donations and Pro Bono Access) © 2020
  - A "community-sourced list of video and other licensed content that library vendors are making available on free or modified terms during the COVID-19 outbreak"--compiled by the University Information Policy Officers (UIPO), a group of lawyer librarians who work in research libraries and consult on fair use and licensing issues for teaching and research.